Musical talent!

Children at Nakirebe primary school participated in a music competition with other schools.

The competition was held at Mitata Maria, Masaka.

Fun sports' day

Work without play makes John a dull child!

At St. John Leonard primary school, children had a sports day. They had competitions between houses namely; Abraham Lincoln and Margaret Thatcher.

Children participated in several games such as sack racing, sweet picking, egg carrying on a spoon, bottle filling with water, dressing competition, football and netball.

In the sack race, a representative from each house wore a sack and they were told to run in order to obtain the winner.

In the egg carrying game, a child carried a table spoon in their mouth that had an egg and ran up to the finish line.

Children participated in bottle filling too. This was done when one put water in their mouth and ran to the finish line in order to fill up an empty bottle. He/she won when their empty bottle got filled up.

In the dressing competition, children in nursery school were given uniforms to put on and the one who got dressed the fastest won the game.

Some children that participated in the football game.

A brand new generator

St. John Leonard primary school had low power supply, most especially during the rainy season.

Hydro electricity and solar power were unreliable. Power could go off and boarders got frightened in the dark.

Teachers failed to conduct lessons. The security at the school declined too.

You cheerfully donated to Fulfilling Futures and the school was surprised with a brand new electric generator!

The school no longer faces power shortage. Children and teachers enjoy night preps and the school has good security too.

Water tanks

Water tanks were installed at Archbishop Kiwanuka primary school, Nakirebe. The whole school now has access to clean and safe water.
